Blowing the whistle on BP helps California recoup funds State of California ex rel. v BP America

JUSTIN T. BERGER Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy LLP PAULA L. BLIZZARD AND KENNETH J. SUGARMAN California Department of Justice NIAL P. MCCARTHY Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy LLP

From 2003 to 2012, BP allegedly overcharged the California Department of General Services for natural gas — violating the terms of three successive contracts in the process. This cost was then passed on to universities, cities, agencies and others that Government agencies often lack the manpower and expertise of the corporations they have to deal with, he said, leaving them vulnerable to manipulation. Schroen was a BP trader in Texas whose job it was to put together under an overall contract guy,” said Justin T. Berger, also a principal with the firm.

In 2012, Schroen sued BP under the California False Claims Act. The act allows a private citizen, even one outside the state, to sue for fraud committed against the government. The California Department of Justice got involved in 2014, with Kenneth J. Sugarmann and Paula L. Blizzard representing the state.

McCarthy and Berger compared the fraud to some of the manipulation that happened during the financial, in which unsuspecting investors were sold mortgage-backed securities too complex to understand. In this case, the industry jargon involved MMBtus, units of natural gas. While the profit on each unit seemed small, the actual profit on each deal often ended up being multiple times what BP was permitted to keep under the contract.

The company abruptly settled for $102 million right before a month-long trial was about to begin. Schroen was instrumental in undermining BP’s case, the attorneys said.

“I think the turning point in the case came when we were able to show even using BP’s own data, the state was massively overcharged,” Berger said.

Schroen himself got a significant payout as part of the settlement, a provision that is written into the Act in order to encourage people to take the risk to come forward. But Berger noted he lost his chosen career and endured years of litigation.

“The Cotchett firm has few peers that equal their ability in litigation. Their commitment to the cause of justice and their ethical standards stand apart. They are people who give back to the community and give lawyers a good name.”

He has been named one of the 100 most influential lawyers in the nation for the past 20 years. In recent years, he has been in the Top 3 for best attorneys in Northern California. Since 2017, he has been named by Super Lawyers to be the number ONE lawyer in Northern California as ranked by his peers. The Daily Journal has named him to be one of the Top 100 in California since its inception. In 2019 he was named Consumer Attorney of the Year for his 20-year fight against lead paint manufacturers for poisoning California’s most vulnerable children and communities. The California Labor Federation honored Cotchett with its “Top Slugger for Workers” award in 2019, recognizing his decades of fighting for the underdog. In 2020, Cotchett was named one of the Top 100 in California and Top 25 Plaintiff Lawyers.

As reported in the San Francisco / Los Angeles Daily Journal, he is “considered one of the best trial strategists in the state” who built a career out of representing the underdog against powerful interests. He is a fearless litigator and once tried two cases at the same time (one in the morning and one in the afternoon) and won them both in San Diego Superior Court in 1984. His clients range from corporate giants to groups like Consumers Union – but the issue must be correct for Cotchett. The San Francisco Chronicle rated him as one of the best in California, saying, “The Burlingame attorney has had a star career that’s not only talked about in legal circles but has made headlines around the country. Known mostly as a plaintiffs’ lawyer, many of his cases are filed on behalf of fraud victims, and have a widows-and-orphan flavor to them.”

Cotchett consistently has been named one of the most influential lawyers in California, and has been named by the legal press as one of the top 10 trial attorneys in California and has been listed in every edition of Best Lawyers in America since its inception.

During his 50-plus year legal career, he has tried more than 100 cases to verdict, and settled hundreds more, winning numerous jury verdicts, ranging from multi-million dollar fraud, antitrust and securities jury verdicts to several defense verdicts in complex civil cases. He successfully negotiated a multi-million-dollar settlement in a qui tam suit on behalf of the University of California and hundreds of millions of dollars in antitrust, securities, major fraud cases, and mass torts.

In recent years, Cotchett and his firm have taken on the Trump Administration, representing the City of Richmond in the Sanctuary City litigation and filed separate suits representing the City of San Jose in challenging the Trump Administrators position on the DACA issues (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) pending in the U.S. District Court in Northern California.

In the 1980s, Cotchett won mammoth judgments and settlements for investors in white-collar fraud cases, with jury verdicts of more than $200 million arising out of the collapse of the Technical Equities Corp. in San Jose. He is known nationally as the lead trial lawyer for 23,000 plaintiffs in the Lincoln Savings & Loan Association/American Continental Corp. case in 1990 involving Charles Keating, his lawyers, accountants and bankers in Tucson, Arizona. He won one of the then largest jury verdicts in US history, $3.3 billion. He obtained nearly $400 million in settlements from lawyers, accountants and other professionals caught up in the scandal of the fraud.

He has represented both the National Football League and teams since the early 1980s in various legal actions. As counsel for E. & J. Gallo Winery, he won a celebrated defense jury verdict in a trade dress infringement case involving wine labels and bottles produced by Gallo. Isuzu Motors of Japan had sued Consumers Union for disparagement to the 1995-96 Trooper, claiming millions in damages. Following an eight-week trial, a jury ruled in favor of Consumers Union. Trial Lawyers for Public Justice honored Cotchett as "Trial Lawyer of the Year" in 2000 in honor of his "outstanding contribution to the public interest" through his work for Consumers Union. Also, in 2000, Consumer Attorneys of California gave Cotchett its "Presidential Award of Merit." In 2004, he was the lead trial counsel in a product defamation case against Consumers Union. The jury ruled for Consumer Union in what was considered a major victory for a free press and the First Amendment.

In one such case, he brought a lawsuit against the United States Navy on behalf of 8,600 Amerasian children in the Philippines who were left in villages after the closing of the Subic Bay Naval Base. The case ended in a settlement giving direct U.S. aid to the children fathered by U.S. servicemen and a television documentary on the subject.
