

Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy Again Named One of the Top 25 Firms in Nation

National Law Journal "Plaintiffs' Hot List"

The National Law Journal again named Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy one of the top 25 plaintiffs' law firms in the nation. The Journal announced its "Plaintiffs' Hot List" with "twenty-five go-to teams for when the going gets tough." The journal said it based its selections on interviews with attorneys across the country on both the plaintiffs' and defense sides, asking for the names of firms they use and recommend. The process also was based on a "hotness" quotient regarding recent verdicts and settlements, and overall track records.
