

CPM's Unfair Competition Litigation Against HSBC Moves Towards Trial in New York

Complaining Alleges that HSBC Violated Unfair Competition Acts Via Overdraft Scheme to Increase Revenues

CPM's attorneys Joe Cotchett and Nancy Fineman along with its Interim Class co-counsel are moving towards trial in this overdraft fee litigation pending in New York federal court. The complaint alleges that HSBC violated California's and New York's unfair competition acts because the bank implemented an overdraft scheme to increase revenues.

Attorneys

Joseph W. Cotchett

Practice Areas

Consumer Protection Class Actions