

CPM Represents Monster Cable in Lawsuit Against Dr. Dre and Beats Electronics

CPM filed a lawsuit on behalf of Monster, LLC and its CEO, Noel Lee, alleging fraud-based claims against Beats Electronics, rapper and record producer Andre Young, a/k/a Dr. Dre, and music mogul Jimmy Iovine, among others. The Complaint states that, “after Defendants improperly took control of the ‘Beats By Dr. Dre’ products, they severed all ties with Monster and Lee and then sold the Beats brand to Apple for $3.2 billion as the Defendants made millions and the Plaintiffs lost millions.” Monster and Lee are represented by CPM’s Joe Cotchett, Philip Gregory, Nanci Nishimura, Camilo Artiga-Purcell, and Shauna Madison.
